

CLOTHING PRICES CUT DOWN AS OVERALLS MOVE GROWS; $35 SUITS ON SALE AGAIN

Dealers Worried Over Steady Advance and Seriousness of Economy Campaign.

ARADE ROUTE CHOSEN.

Colleges, Business and Professional Men and Women Join Movement.

That the overalls campaign is not fast, but a genuine economy drive is making itself felt throughout the Nation, is being illustrated by the eaking of clothing prices in the area, the apparent anxiety of clothing dealers and the spread of the movement into an old clothes campaign in which not only are overalls urged, but a determination to wear old, discarded clothing and cheaper suits of all kinds. Prices of clothing are being slashed by merchants in their desire to "cash in" on the overalls craze in no doubt with a feeling that profits would be enormous. Window displays in some stores which showed men's suits priced last week at $75 and $90 only were hurriedly changed and the $5 suit which had been a thing only of memory has returned and prices range now from $35 to $50.

FAD TRANSFORMED INTO ECONOMY MOVE.

While there is no doubt that many persons first entered into the campaign as a fad, this phase of the drive being rapidly changed and the leaders have made it clear that the movement is a serious one, and while the stores were quick to seize upon the move to attract attention, the publicity has created a real wave of economy and denim suits are much in evidence in most of the leading houses every night.

Aaron Rachofsky, one of the organizers of the big Liberty Loan Parade and now organizing the Economy Parade to be held Saturday morning, told of meeting a wholesaler who, because of the overalls and 1 clothes campaign, is unable to dispose of 5,000 blue serge suits he has been offering at $25, and will have cut his price materially to get them off his hands.

"These are mighty healthy signs," said Mr. Rachofsky. "Now that leading citizens, jurists and officials are wearing overalls in public, the average man is no longer ashamed to be seen in such garb. He can wear old clothes or overalls and still look neat and respectable."

"I want to impress the idea that this is not overalls propaganda. The trade is going to be an economy trade, not an overalls parade. The archers will not have to wear overalls; they can appear in old clothes, stashed clothes, khaki, or anything that indicates economy."

All organizations and individuals interested in lowering the high cost of living are invited to take part and will be welcome in the parade," Mr. Rachofsky announced. "We will be glad to hear from everybody interested at our headquarters, No. 154 West 46th Street, Bryant 6698."

ENTERTAINS BOX PARTY CLAD IN OVERALLS.

A first full overalls worn on a party were reported last night by Fred Schneider, a theatrical man, who attended a box party at the Central theatre, and later at a cabaret.

The Rubinstein Club announced a musical programme at the Waldorf May 7 as "an overalls and bungalow apron party." It cut the regular price from $5 to $1 a ticket, and said doughnuts and lemonade would be served free.

Various organizations reported an increase in the numbers of their members. The Morris High School Overalls Club has now grown to 1,000. The City College has 500, organized by Sylvester Schaefer.

An old clothes and thrift club was formed by thrifty representative citizens of Cranford, N. J., last night. Each man at the meeting, which was called by Winchester Britton, signed a pledge, effective during 1920, to wear old clothes "as long as they can be made presentable," to "practice thrift and economy generally," and to limit necessary purchases of new clothing to the following maximum prices:

Suit, $50; hat, $5; shoes, $10; shirts, $1; and the rest of our clothing in proportion."

Among those who signed the pledge were the Mayor and the President of the Civic Board. The pledges will be posted in conspicuous parts of the town for residents to sign.

The Manhattan Navy Club, Nos. 12-14 East 41st Street, announced that its Secretary, Daniel J. Perry, 10,000 sailors will march down Broadway and Fifth Avenue in their working dungarees after the Atlantic Fleet comes here the week of May 2, and that 500 sailors, marines and naval aviation men have expressed a desire to march in Saturday's Economy Parade.

Jeremiah Costello, No. 492 Ninth Street, Brooklyn, a Civil War veteran, reported for work as Clerk of the Appellate Term of the Supreme Court in

Policemen Who Will Receive Medals of Honor For Distinguished Service During the Year

JOHN J. WALSH    JAS. J. DEVENY    HARRY COHEN

When New York enjoys its annual police parade on May 8 Mayor Hylan, Police Commissioner Enright and the Deputy Police Commissioners will be seen at the head of the line. Like nearly everybody else in the parade the Mayor and the Commissioners will walk.

Five thousand regulars and 3,000 members of the Police Reserves will be in line this year, including a rifle regiment of 500 young policemen who were in the World War.

The parade will leave the battery at 11:30 o'clock. Its route will be up Broadway to Twelfth Street, west to Fifth Avenue and thence through Fifth Avenue, Twenty-second Street, Seventh Avenue, Fortieth Street and Fifth Avenue to the reviewing stand at Twenty-third Street, disbanding at the World Monument.

At the reviewing stand Mayor Hylan will award medals of honor to seven of the many policemen who have won distinction during the past year.

The department medal of honor goes to Joseph A. Enright, a detective sergeant, who while riding on an Amsterdam Avenue car near 123d Street heard police whistles and the cry of "Stop thief!" He jumped from the car, ran after Giovanni Gesco who was being pursued and caught him. Gesco shot Walsh twice. Notwithstanding his wounds, Walsh threw him to the ground and held him until assistance arrived. Gesco had shot one man during a quarrel, and while running away wounded another who attempted to stop him.

The Rhineland Medal for Valor is awarded to Patrolman Harry Cohen of the 16th District, formerly of the 10th District, who pursued and captured James Hallingham and a fellow burglar in Thompson Street. Hallingham fired at Cohen, the bullet striking him in the breast, but the policeman's heavy clothing prevented a serious wound. Cohen disarmed Hallingham, who was taken to the station house by another patrolman. Hallingham and two others were accused of holding up a Thompson Street butcher.

The Isaac Bell medal for bravery is awarded to Patrolman John J. Walsh, detective division, formerly of the 29th Precinct, who captured a burglar after a pistol battle. Walsh was going to a warehouse at 47th Street and Second Avenue where burglary was being committed, when he saw a man with a pistol coming from a hallway and commanded him to halt. The man fired at Walsh and ran across the street, firing two more shots before entering a hallway. Walsh returned the fire and overpowered him in the hall.

The Peter F. Meyer medal goes to Patrolman James J. Deveny of the 28th Precinct, who arrested one of three hold-up men who had robbed a jewelry store on Columbus Avenue. Deveny commanded a passing automobile and gave chase. At 7th Street he jumped off the running board and seized one of the men, Frank Marcello, who fired two shots. One of the bullets passed through Deveny's overcoat and striking his right thigh. Deveny captured the fugitive after firing four effective shots.

The Automobile Club of America Medal is awarded to Patrolman George S. Lane of the detective division who shot a murderer who attempted to kill him. Lane saw two men quarreling in Mott Street near Grand Street and started on a run. Before he could reach them, Stefano Gravano, one of the men, fired and killed Giuseppe Lapani. Gravano then fired at Lane, the bullet going wild. Lane fired at Gravano, which took effect in the latter's body but did not stop him. Another shot fired by Gravano missed its mark. Lane then fired, the bullet killing Gravano.

The Walter Scott Medal for valor goes to Patrolman John J. Wimmer of the First Precinct, who shot and killed Philip La Houd, a thug, in self defense in Morris Street near the subway station of the Seventh Avenue line. Wimmer fired at La Houd, who threw up his hands, but as Wimmer neared him he lowered his right hand and attempted to shoot. Wimmer fired instantly and jumped aside.

The Brooklyn Citizen Medal is awarded to Patrolman John P. Monahan of the 102d Precinct, who arrested two hold-up men. Monahan was about to enter the underground room of Louis Tommaso in Hushwick Avenue when two men rushed past him on the way out. As he stepped inside he saw two other men with revolvers pointing into the rear room. Monahan, hampered by his rubber coat, could not draw his revolver, so he leaped upon the robbers and took away their pistols. He then pushed the proprietor and three others were standing with their hands up. Two holdup men were arrested.

Akron Shows 201 Per Cent. Population Increase.

WASHINGTON, April 31.—The Census Bureau to-day announced the 1920 population of Akron, O., as 268,132, an increase in ten years of 139,263, or 201.3 per cent.

GOAT GLANDS TEST MADE HERE TO-DAY

Dr. Brinkley of Kansas Performs Operation Which He Pronounces Success.

Goat glands transplanting had its first try-out in New York to-day when Dr. John R. Brinkley of the Brinkley-Jones Hospital, Milford, Kan., in the office of Dr. David Rosner, No. 155 West 47th Street, took the glands from a goat and placed them in a man of about thirty-two years.

The operation lasted only fifteen minutes and both doctors said it had been performed successfully. They said it was not nearly as serious or as difficult as an operation for appendicitis. The doctors said the patient would be able to be around in two or three days.

TAKES FOUR TO SUBDUDE LAD.

Father, Brother and 2 Policemen Finally Bind Mental Patient.

It took four men, two of them policemen, to subdue Hyman Klein, seventeen years old, No. 1791 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, to-day when his parents decided to send him back to a sanatorium where he has been treated before for a mental disease.

When the decision was announced, the boy became violent and drove the family from the house. Patrolman William Price, who was called in, was badly scratched and bruised and his uniform was torn from his body. Patrolman Max Finkelstein then took a hand, aided by the boy's father and older brother. The four managed to handcuff and bind him. He was taken to Kings County Hospital.

Miss Hearn Lives at a 44th Street Address.

Owing to a typographical error, the address of Harrison Hearn, the manacured using Hector Havermyer for $100,000, appearing in Monday's Evening World as No. 13 East 34th Street. The correct address is No. 13 East 44th Street, according to her attorneys, Rosenfeld & Halperin.

HYLAN O. K.'S VACATION BILL.

Mayor Hylan to-day approved a legislative bill which grants city employees paid by the day a three weeks' vacation with pay.

The per diem city workers now receive a two weeks' vacation, but this is offset by the fact that they are compelled to work Sundays and holidays. The bill affects thousands of employees.

NO HEAT, SAY TENANTS.

Robert Wasserman, No. 4515 14th Avenue, Brooklyn, was arraigned in the Queens Avenue Court to-day on the complaint of tenants who said he failed to supply heat and hot water in the apartment house at No. 60 Patchen Street. The charge is violation of health regulations.

Wasserman said he bought the building last fall and thought there was coal enough in the basement to last to summer. He said he had been unable to get more coal. His trial was set for April 26.

MEDALS OF HONOR FOR POLICEMEN AWARDED MAY 8

Hylan, Enright and His Deputies to March at Head of Annual Parade.

When New York enjoys its annual police parade on May 8 Mayor Hylan, Police Commissioner Enright and the Deputy Police Commissioners will be seen at the head of the line. Like nearly everybody else in the parade the Mayor and the Commissioners will walk.

Five thousand regulars and 3,000 members of the Police Reserves will be in line this year, including a rifle regiment of 500 young policemen who were in the World War.

The parade will leave the battery at 11:30 o'clock. Its route will be up Broadway to Twelfth Street, west to Fifth Avenue and thence through Fifth Avenue, Twenty-second Street, Seventh Avenue, Fortieth Street and Fifth Avenue to the reviewing stand at Twenty-third Street, disbanding at the World Monument.

At the reviewing stand Mayor Hylan will award medals of honor to seven of the many policemen who have won distinction during the past year.

The department medal of honor goes to Joseph A. Enright, a detective sergeant, who while riding on an Amsterdam Avenue car near 123d Street heard police whistles and the cry of "Stop thief!" He jumped from the car, ran after Giovanni Gesco who was being pursued and caught him. Gesco shot Walsh twice. Notwithstanding his wounds, Walsh threw him to the ground and held him until assistance arrived. Gesco had shot one man during a quarrel, and while running away wounded another who attempted to stop him.

The Rhineland Medal for Valor is awarded to Patrolman Harry Cohen of the 16th District, formerly of the 10th District, who pursued and captured James Hallingham and a fellow burglar in Thompson Street. Hallingham fired at Cohen, the bullet striking him in the breast, but the policeman's heavy clothing prevented a serious wound. Cohen disarmed Hallingham, who was taken to the station house by another patrolman. Hallingham and two others were accused of holding up a Thompson Street butcher.

The Isaac Bell medal for bravery is awarded to Patrolman John J. Walsh, detective division, formerly of the 29th Precinct, who captured a burglar after a pistol battle. Walsh was going to a warehouse at 47th Street and Second Avenue where burglary was being committed, when he saw a man with a pistol coming from a hallway and commanded him to halt. The man fired at Walsh and ran across the street, firing two more shots before entering a hallway. Walsh returned the fire and overpowered him in the hall.

The Peter F. Meyer medal goes to Patrolman James J. Deveny of the 28th Precinct, who arrested one of three hold-up men who had robbed a jewelry store on Columbus Avenue. Deveny commanded a passing automobile and gave chase. At 7th Street he jumped off the running board and seized one of the men, Frank Marcello, who fired two shots. One of the bullets passed through Deveny's overcoat and striking his right thigh. Deveny captured the fugitive after firing four effective shots.

The Automobile Club of America Medal is awarded to Patrolman George S. Lane of the detective division who shot a murderer who attempted to kill him. Lane saw two men quarreling in Mott Street near Grand Street and started on a run. Before he could reach them, Stefano Gravano, one of the men, fired and killed Giuseppe Lapani. Gravano then fired at Lane, the bullet going wild. Lane fired at Gravano, which took effect in the latter's body but did not stop him. Another shot fired by Gravano missed its mark. Lane then fired, the bullet killing Gravano.

The Walter Scott Medal for valor goes to Patrolman John J. Wimmer of the First Precinct, who shot and killed Philip La Houd, a thug, in self defense in Morris Street near the subway station of the Seventh Avenue line. Wimmer fired at La Houd, who threw up his hands, but as Wimmer neared him he lowered his right hand and attempted to shoot. Wimmer fired instantly and jumped aside.

The Brooklyn Citizen Medal is awarded to Patrolman John P. Monahan of the 102d Precinct, who arrested two hold-up men. Monahan was about to enter the underground room of Louis Tommaso in Hushwick Avenue when two men rushed past him on the way out. As he stepped inside he saw two other men with revolvers pointing into the rear room. Monahan, hampered by his rubber coat, could not draw his revolver, so he leaped upon the robbers and took away their pistols. He then pushed the proprietor and three others were standing with their hands up. Two holdup men were arrested.

Akron Shows 201 Per Cent. Population Increase.

WASHINGTON, April 31.—The Census Bureau to-day announced the 1920 population of Akron, O., as 268,132, an increase in ten years of 139,263, or 201.3 per cent.

GOAT GLANDS TEST MADE HERE TO-DAY

Dr. Brinkley of Kansas Performs Operation Which He Pronounces Success.

Goat glands transplanting had its first try-out in New York to-day when Dr. John R. Brinkley of the Brinkley-Jones Hospital, Milford, Kan., in the office of Dr. David Rosner, No. 155 West 47th Street, took the glands from a goat and placed them in a man of about thirty-two years.

TAKES FOUR TO SUBDUDE LAD.

Father, Brother and 2 Policemen Finally Bind Mental Patient.

It took four men, two of them policemen, to subdue Hyman Klein, seventeen years old, No. 1791 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, to-day when his parents decided to send him back to a sanatorium where he has been treated before for a mental disease.

NO HEAT, SAY TENANTS.

Robert Wasserman, No. 4515 14th Avenue, Brooklyn, was arraigned in the Queens Avenue Court to-day on the complaint of tenants who said he failed to supply heat and hot water in the apartment house at No. 60 Patchen Street. The charge is violation of health regulations.

HYLAN O. K.'S VACATION BILL.

Mayor Hylan to-day approved a legislative bill which grants city employees paid by the day a three weeks' vacation with pay.

The per diem city workers now receive a two weeks' vacation, but this is offset by the fact that they are compelled to work Sundays and holidays. The bill affects thousands of employees.

DOROTHY DOWLING WEDS DANIEL DALY AT ST. PATRICK'S

DOROTHY DOWLING

An assembly numbering at least 1,800, and which included fully two score members of the judiciary and many others in public life, witnessed the marriage in St. Patrick's Cathedral to-day of Miss Dorothy Dowling, daughter of Justice and Mrs. Victor J. Dowling, to Mr. Daniel L. Daly. The ceremony was performed by the Most Rev. Patrick J. Hayes, assisted by Monsignor Wall and Mr. Morris. The Rt. Rev. John J. Dunn celebrated the nuptial mass. The Cathedral choir assisted, with J. C. Ungewer as organist. John Finnegan, tenor, sang Bach's "Ave Maria."

The bride, in a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace, a court train of white satin extending from her shoulders, was attended by Miss Natalie Dowling as bridesmaid. The Misses Helen Roush, Loretta Meehan, Margaret Hennessey, Madeline Mulqueen and Ethel O'Donohue and Mrs. John H. Madden were the maids of honor and Catherine Ford was the flower girl.

Pat. Daly was his brother's best man and Edward Bruno Thomas F. Garry Jr., Leo V. Klauber, Jack McEl, Keresey, William Butler, Frederick Flanagan, Victor McCarthy, Thomas Cunningham, William Penney and E. E. Barrett the ushers. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

AGENT OF CUDAHY IN BROOKLYN HELD AS BEEF PROFITEER

Boosted Meat Price Five Cents Within Few Days, Charge of Butcher.

Department of Justice agents this morning arrested Oliver H. Saunders, manager of the Brooklyn branch of the Cudahy Packing Company, No. 168 Fort Greene Place, Brooklyn, on a charge of profiteering in fresh hind-quarters and ribs of beef.

The complainant is John Schroth, a butcher of No. 748 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, who charges that he paid 34 cents a pound for meat he had purchased a few days before at 28 cents. Saunders, when arraigned before United States Commissioner McCabe, pleaded not guilty and was held in $2,500 bail for hearing on May 5.

Saunders is the fourth of the local representatives of the big Chicago packing houses to be taken into custody in Brooklyn on charges of profiteering. The others were the managers of Swift & Co., Armour & Co. and Wilson & Co.

Armin W. Riley, chief of the "Flying Squadron" searching for profiteers, to-day seized 7,185 pounds of sugar in a vacant store at No. 771 Jackson Avenue, the Bronx. The alleged owner of the sugar, Herman Toback, of No. 770 Jackson Avenue, must answer before the United States District Court on May 3 why he should not forfeit the sugar on the ground that it is hoarded and that he is in business without a license.

Riley said Toback bought the sugar from a legitimate concern on the plea that he was in the business of flavoring extracts and crushed fruit syrups. Toback, he said, had business cards bearing out that contention.

When Toback was ordered to relinquish the sugar, Riley said, he defied the United States Marshal, and it was only after threats of forcible entry that he permitted them to seize the sugar.

H-O FOR BREAKFAST

Easier to prepare
Better flavor
More economical

H-O FOR BREAKFAST

The double-toasted
OATMEAL

J. GLASSBERG

290 Fifth Ave.
BETWEEN 30TH AND 31ST STS.

Short Vamp Shoes

Special Values This Week

Full Line of New FRENCH Models

$10.00 - $15.50

Including Tax

High Shoes, Oxfords and Pumps in all leathers, including Suedes. Sizes 1 to 8. Widths A to EEE.

Branch Store: 511 6th Ave.
BETWEEN 30TH AND 31ST STS.

MILLER CANDIES

"Better Chocolates at a Lower Price"

Turkish Delight—What is so rare as candy flavor that has the odor of perfume and the fragrance of fresh flowers? And yet that's the only description that will fit these delicately tinted soft squares powdered with sugar.

34c

Cream Filberts—Plump, nutritious, selected almonds form the centers of these confections, while a covering of sugar-cream in Vanilla and Chocolate flavors adds the final touch of savored excellence.

39c

Extra Special

34c

Miller's 5 STORIES
421 Broadway
421 Canal St.
521 Broadway
At Hotel B.
640 Broadway
At Bowler St.
742 Broadway
At Hotel B.
1440 Broadway
At Hotel B.
1608 Broadway
At Hotel B.
120 Nassau St.
Between 4th and 5th Sts.